What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am a final year UKZN student, I love multitasking because I benefit from it. I have never been employed by any company in my life except for being an independent distributor for fragrances and skincare products. I am now a hair reseller and household cleaning detergents reseller. I also run a home based boutique and it helps me a lot in making my ends meet. I believe I am good at working with people, lastly I am a clothing line ambassador, all of these determine that I can work under pressure and I can work well with clients and it will make it easier to promote a product when I get hired. I strongly believe I qualify for the job because I have what it takes.
