What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am looking for a mechanical fitter job. I have a vast experience on different types of equipment in the petrochemical industry. I have done my trade test on the 29/01/2020 & 30/01/2020 which I successfully completed. I am a very safety conscious individual as I have also did a safety course through a bursary at an institute called progress education and trading. I also do have my own vehicle with a EB driver's license including a prdp. I am medically fit and willing to work shifts. However I am willing to learn more and further myself in mechanical fitting or something similar to this trade. I am a family man of 5 and very dedicated and committed. So having a permanent job will really be all I need.
