What job i'm looking for? My positive points

Any job from administration work to Sales. I have good computer skills, especially Microsoft which I have been exposed to for over 5 years. I'm currently studying Marketing at the Vaal University of Technology, currently have one module to complete and I will be completing my qualification in the first semester of this academic year. I have good interpersonal skills as I have worked in a retail store for the Verimark company. This lead me to interacting heavily with customers and making sure I satisfy both the customers and company by making sales. I now have good time management skills, organizational skills, interaction skills and have become more goal oriented than ever. I'm a fast learner, hard worker and can work well under pressure and I with a little bit of training I believe I can complete any task given. I have put in extra hours to complete tasks that I have been given in the past and have outdone myself a couple of times. I love reading and learning about my surroundings because I believe knowledge is power. I would love to work at this company and I promise to out do any tasks given by my employer.
