What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm looking for any type of job as it in construction because I'm that type of a person who love to work in the field and love to improve the infrastructure since I'm looking forward to gain experience.

I've worked in the construction before infact my whole life I only worked in construction and I fell inlove with it since in my community I'm the one who does the handywork like tiing,painting, working alongside builders and electricians,plastering a house and welding.
