What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm looking for any job at this point. but where I was working, I was machine operator and I do understand healthy and safety procedures since I have been working on the severely company. I'm fast learner and I like to learn new things every time. I'm good worker and I'm serious personal when it comes to my job I do.

What I can say since I have experience of working with different people. it's very easy for me to understand every person I work with. I will be very happy if you can give me a chance to do what I'm good at.

Thanks looking forward to get a chance.
