Curriculum Vitae (CV)

What job i'm looking for? My positive points feet when there is a task at hand, and also always keep the fingers on the pulse, I guess that's the trick of the trade, and it definitely works like a charm.

Finally, please note that, this CV is the revelation that makes me distinctive and ourightly stand out from the crowd.

I strongly believe I have made history in relation to overall accomplishment, set up a record that warrants the privilege of Guinness book of records. Who would have known if I don't blow up my horn for my own sake, sometimes we don't have to wait for others to validate ourselves, we definitely have to take matters into our own hands and boost about our own conquest, that's the fact

Anyway, thank you and wish all the best.

Dear Sir/Madam

Contacts and general information about me

Look, being a professional Security Officer, Control room operator, Retailer, ect, I enormously pride myself to be the Law abiding citizen of this country with a colossal passion of Retail as well as Safety and Security which I perceive it as an inside out process. The fire needs to burn inside us as Officers, no fire, no warmth, without warmth, customers/ Clients are going to go cold on us.

My background taught me to see the world in a different view, and that's exactly what makes me distinctive and stand out from the crowd. I quite often refrain from blowing my own trumpet, but Early, I can help it, that's what keeps my ball rolling.

I'm mature, positive, and hardworking individual who always strives to achieve the highest standard possible at any given point in time. I have strong technical skills as well as excellent interpersonal skills enabling me to interact with wide range of clients. I have extensive experience in Safety and Security and leading teams across multiple sectors.

Look, for the sake of emphasis, I have to repeat and admit that I'm overwhelmingly and prodigiously unique as compared to any Vagabond, Imbecile, Conjuror, and Egotist lingering around out there, and quite frankly, it's not just that I somehow greatly flatter myself, but it's a validated, and stamped statement. I always believe that the way we see the world can change the world, our choices are shaped by what we believe is real and true, right or wrong, good and beautiful, our choices are shaped by our worldview. The term worldview may sound abstract and philosophical, a topic discussed by pipesmoking, tweed jacketed, professors in academic settings, but actually, a persons worldview is intensely practical.

It's simply the sum total of our beliefs about the world, the big picture that directs our daily decisions and actions.

So understanding the worldview is extremely important to how we live, to know how to evaluate everything from textbook, from stories and characters shown contemporary movies, to the lyrics in the music we listen to.

Notwithstanding all of the above, I strongly believe that I'm the best example of what the doctor should order and administer. The proof is in the pudding. I have a passion for this Safety and
