What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am Humbling myself looking for an job opportunity as a cleaner or Parker because I do not have any job experience not that I am undermining these two jobs but I can do them very well. The reason why I'm choosing them it is because they are the most important jobs in every store, they always say cleanness is next to Goddess. For every customer to have interest and courage to buy to the store where food is provided they first check where the store is clean for them to buy. What I am trying to say is that the store can rrly on me to keep the working environment clean because it is important. I can also work as a packer because each and every product from store need to stocked in order for the customers not to get confused and for them to find it easily. I'm willing to work overtime because I can say it proudly that I am a hard working person, and I'm willing to take your store to another level with my dedication.
