Curriculum Vitae (CV)

What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am an individual who is passionate about the advancements in information communications technology and the revolutionary front that the industry aims to serve. I am a logical thinker who tends to focus on objectivity and rationality. I have great advancements in computer literacy, programming, networking and communications. I have a dynamic approach towards work and always eager to apply my assimilated academic knowledge and gained technical skills in a demanding environment, whilst meeting the proposed deadlines and completing deliverables. I fully understand the importance of working within a team as I believe that when one pulls their weight in a team then anything can be achieved but yet also have the ability to work individually without regular supervision whilst making sure the work I bring to the table is always effective. I am someone who believes in near perfection and in so doing I strive for excellence in every opportunity I get as I pay very close attention to detail.

My career objectives are to secure a stable yet reliable opportunity where I can utilise my acquired theoretical and practical skills, while making a significant contribution to the success of the work space that I would be immersed in.

I aim to expand my knowledge and expertise in the information communications technology field in order to cement my role in implementing a quality software for all.

I am driven by my yearning for knowledge and excitement to apply my skills and expertise to solve real world problems, what I lack in experience I more than make up for in altruism. I have built great relationships with people in the segment I am applying for through great workmanship and my willingness to learn. I strongly believe that I have just the right set of skills to excel in this position.
