What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am always looking for new work opportunities. Before COVID, I was employed at a gym, but due to family circumstances, I became disconnected from the outside world. For medical family reasons, I now need to work remotely.

Every day is a challenge, but I face it head-on.. I start with my cup of coffee, look for work, and keep busy with projects and hobbies. I work on my computer daily, so an online or fully remote position is ideal. This way, I can be at home to help when needed, while still earning an income.

I am fully prepared to learn new skills and rebuild my professional confidence. I hold a degree in Graphic Design and have a diverse work background... I've worked as a butcher, held a Code 14EC driver's license and did metal deliveries for several years, and worked at a gym where I also handled reception duties.

Over the years, I've taken on a variety of roles, and I'm hoping someone will give me the opportunity to prove my value and dedication.
