What Are Berberine Patches?

Berberine patches are adhesive transdermal patches infused with berberine and supportive natural ingredients. When applied to the skin, the patch slowly releases active compounds that pass through the skin barrier and enter the bloodstream over time.

This delivery method is designed to provide steady, sustained absorption throughout the day, avoiding the spikes and drops that sometimes occur with oral supplements. Berberine patches are typically worn for several hours, often 8-12 hours, depending on the product instructions.
