What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am responding to your advertisement for a vacancy position into your programme as advertised on the website.

I am in possession of a Bachelor of commerce with Honors in financial management at University of Lubumbashi in DR. Congo. I am also a student at UNISA enrolled for a master's programme in the Department of Financial, Risk Management Banking. Currently, my studies focus on the banking sector and my research topic is 'Determinants of Bank Profitability in South Africa'. In addition, I have got other qualifications and workshops attended such as computer literacy in Microsoft Word, Access, Excel, PowerPoint, Internet and outlook. Hopefully, this position will help me to gain enough knowledge within the organisation.

I believe I am the right candidate for this vacancy post because I am familiar on how to do research and collect secondary data on desktop via different databases, to manage and analyse the data in order to identify the issue and suggest solutions of the problem, also I am able to write an article in any specific field. If my application is accepted into your organisation, I will put extra effort to succeed. I am a hard worker, possess good problem, honest, ready to work in extra time, and can work well with other people.

I am looking forwards to hearing from you at your earliest convenient time.

Yours faithfully

Kiza Michel Kana
