What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm looking for a job in the airport industry/business because I'm this gap year that I'm currently taking after high school, I had to think about what I wanted to do, and my personality and characteristics didn't match with anything I thought of, I always asked myself why am I having a tough time finding what's good for me for my future? just to realise that working in an airport is exactly for people like me, I like to keep busy away from my world into a different and doing my own thing. I like the fact that i get to become disciplined and focused it's just exciting when you think of the way you'd look in one of the air hostess uniform and how sophisticated you become.....very fascinating.
