What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am looking for a construction worker such as brick layer because I have a experience. My late uncle use to work with me on weekends and we were depending to him. I am a fast learner and am willing to learn. I am able to work under pressure it's not a challenge for me to work with strangers. I am not that type of a person who gives up in life I fail my grade 11 twice and I never give up until I got my matric certificate.
